

The panges of Loue and louers fttcs.

Was not good Kyng Salamon
 Raulshed in sondry wyle
 With euery liuelie Paragon
 That glistered before his eyes
 If this be true as trewe it was
 Lady lady.
 Why should not I serue you alas
 My deare lady.

When Paris was enamoured
 With Helena dame bewties peare
 Whom Venus first him promised
 To venter on and not to feare
 What sturdy stormes endured he
 Lady lady
 To winne her loue er it would be
 My deare ladye.

Knowe ye not holwe Troilus
 Languished and lost his ioye
 With fittes and fevers mervailous
 For Cressida that dwelt in Troie
 Till pytie planted in her brest
 ladye ladye.
 To slepe with him & graunt him rest
 My deare ladye.

I read somtyme holwe venterous
 Leander was his loue to please
 Who swomme the waters perillous
 Of Abidon thos surginge seale
 To come to her where as she lay
 ladye ladye.
 Till he was drowned by the wape
 my deare ladye.

What saye then to Pyramus
 That promised his loue to mete
 And founde by fortune marvellous
 A bloudie cloth before his seete
 For Tybries sake hym selfe he slewe
 ladye ladye
 To proue that he was a louer trewe
 my deare ladye.

When Hercules for Cronis
 murdered a monster fell
 He put him selfe in leoperdie
 Perillous as the stories tell Reskewinge her bypon the shore
 ladye ladye.
 Whiche els by lot had died therfore
 my deare ladye.

An araretis bewtifull
 When Iphis did beholde and see
 With sighes and sobbinges pittifull
 That Paragon longe wooed he
 And when he could not wynn her so
 Ladye ladye
 He went and honge him selfe for woe
 My deare ladye.

Besides these matters marvellous
 Good Ladye yet I can tell the more
 The Gods haue ben full-amourous
 As Jupiter by leached loze
 Who changed his shape as fame hath ladye ladye. spied
 To come to Alcmenaes bed.
 My deare ladye.

And if be wtie breed such blisfulnesse
 Euamouring both God and man
 Good Ladye let no wilfulnesse Exasperate your bewtye then
 To slaye the hertes that yeld & craue
 ladye ladye
 The graunt of your good will to haue
 My deare ladye.
